Not illustrated. 1852 Excerpt: .in which canton there were a number of catholic families dissatisfied with living in a protestant country, proposed to Charles-Emanuel to exchange these families for an equal number of protestant families from the valleys. Cromwell, on his part, offered to settle the Vaudois in Ireland, in place of the natives whom he had found it expedient to expel. But the reply of the moderator was more conformable with the interests of his own country: he supplicated the protector rather to send a plenipotentiary to Turin, to negotiate the re-establishment of the Vaudois in their valleys, than to remove them. The plenipotentiary sent in accordance with this request was Sir Samuel Morland, who performed a leading part in the pacification of this unhappy country, and who afterwards wrote a remarkable history of the events which had occurred there. Most of the protestant powers added their representations to...
