Inlandia Institute, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Go To The Living shines into the darkness of loss a father s unwavering lament and deep affections. In poem after poem, Micah Chatterton gives voice and figure to the memory of a son, Ezra, whose short life is made vivid in koans and laments, elegies, invocations, fragments, lists, anecdotes, and seemingly absurd yet heartbreakingly candid hypotheticals (Who would win in a cubicle fight unarmed, Micah asks in July 27 3:41pm (d104), a Klingon or a Wookie?). As Chatterton observes in Kitchen Counter, Grief is learning just how weak and fragile words are, memory is. This beautiful, deeply felt collection locates in the memory of one life the beginning of the next, without ever yielding a shadow to either. -- John W. Go To The Living is such an achievement in art, in love--in the great skill and music of the voice, which, in its clarity, invention, and deep attention to life is redemptive for us all. -Christopher Buckley Micah...
