I am gathering myself together for a great leap, Jack. Dont look so sad about it, then. Take it as you would one of your Berkshire fences, Harry, with a firm seat and a cool hand. If I only knew what was on the other side, Jackthat bothers me. By the way, did you hear of the dinner at old Thornhills on Tuesday I declare everybody was drunk but the dogs; and they were turned out at night to find their way home by themselves. The Squire got very, very badport and brandy alternatelytumbled twice off his horse before he got out of the gate; and then, half an hour after, when the rest of us rode home, we found him sitting in the middle of the road, in the dark, trying to ward off the dogs that had gathered round him and were for licking his face, while he hiccuped to them Ggo away, my good peopleggo awayIve really nothing for you; pon my soul, Ive forgot my ppurse. But whats the matter, Harry You havent...
